Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

—V—

Our county supervisors resolved to send copies of the much publicized editorial by Mr. John Sheffield in re pensions and preparedness to each of our senators and to our esteemed congressman.

This pension bill upon which the Congress now has craw-fished certainly is dynamite. A number of congressmen have stated, "I did not vote for it. I was agin it," yet the record shows that not one voted against it, that it passed by a voice vote.

We wrote an esteemed congressman last week if it was legal for aldermen and supervisors to pension themselves but, at the time of going to press, we have received no reply.

Our editorial about "Educational Sabotage" must have struck a responsive chord last week as we have seen it reproduced in two daily newspapers.

Experts predict that the war will last many years if victory is to be won by the allies. If that is so, the boys now in the 7th and 8th grade will have to take a part in this war, whether as soldiers or as defense workers. Then why waste these precious months teaching them a lot of tommyrot that will be neither of value to them or to their country.

It seems to us that, if this is to be a long war, and every person must participate, the government should make it compulsory for every boy from 11 to 18 in the schools should receive basic military training while he is in school. The government should set up in towns the size of Grenada manual training schools for the boys who show mechanical aptitude.

Hope Kirk, who was kicked by a mule Tuesday will soon be able to sell that varmint to someone who will work the devil out of him.

This is total war. Every child in school should be taught something that will be valuable in the war effort.

This office was honored Sunday by a brief call by Hon. Tom Bailey believed to be the next governor of Mississippi.

This office was honored Wednesday by a brief call by Hon. Tom Abernethy believed to be the next Congressman from this district.

Whatever folks believe about who is going to be what, we do not expect to have a damn thing to do with any of these politicians, expect vote for several of them.

Katie, now our favorite cook, never gets her name in the paper. Here it is.

As we write this, it looks like Horn and Greenfield are going to live a life of idleness and sin Friday and Saturday unless our job customers send in something for them to do.

These young engineers employed by the Chas. T. Main Co., and by the War Department are high class men. No roughnecks in the crowd, just a bunch of industrious young men trying to make an honest living, and not able to pay exhorbitant rents for quarters.

Aint they sweet.

Harry Burkley adds his basso voice to the chorus which sings the song, "Aint they sweet." They have been using a reamer on him.

At last the Mehodists have a preacher, W. L. Robinson, whom I can look up to.

Too bad, about Mac Anthony being robbed of about five hundred dollars. Did not know anyone had that much money.

This pension bill will prove to be the most potent purgative ever administered the halls of Congress.

Horton and Horton's cabbage should be 3 cents instead of 8 cents. We had eaten some of them and thought they were worth 8 cents, hence the error.

We understand that General MacArthur has cheered the West Coast by saying that, if the West Coast can hold out a month longer, he will send some reinforcements.

We are afraid they are going to have to eliminate Grenada from the war effort, as the war-inspired organizations are so busy fighting each other that they will have no time left to fiht the Japs and Germans.

Just a foolish questios from an ignorast editor: why has not the mayor's office, a public building, room for the USO, a public organization?

Bring MacArthur home.

Richardson Replaces Lester At Grenada Drug Store

Effective Monday, March 2, 1942, Mr. C. C. Richardson has taken charge of Grenada Drug Store, replacing Mr. "Red" Lester who has had charge for about twelve months.

Mr. Lester, who is a reserve officer in Uncle Sam's army, has been called to active duty.

Mr. Richardson has been a resident of Grenada for three years and for seven years has been a traveling salesman for the wholesale drug firm of Ellis-Bagwell, of Memphis. He asks the continued generous patronage for the store under his control and promises clean new merchandise, prompt delivery and good service.

Mr. Richardson is a graduate in pharmacy at Ole Miss, and, before going on the road as salesman, worked as pharmacist a number of years at Columbia, Mississippi.

Associated with Mr. Richardson in the store are Messrs. Benton Keeton, Hal Ferrell and Roy Honeycutt.

Sugar Rationing Information Urgently Requested

On March 4th a preliminary meeting was held in the Court House which was attended by the school teachers of Grenada County, and certain county officials and representatives of the Rationing Board of Grenada County in reference to the Sugar Rationing that will shortly go into effect.

The teachers were requested to make surveys in their various areas securing information as to the number of people therein which will practically amount to a census of Grenada County. This information will be turned in shortly to the agencies that handle the rationing so that the coupon books and instructions can be issued on or about the date the rationing begins.

It is imperative that we have this information for Grenada County so that there will be no confusion when application for ration books are made, so contact your teachers if you live in the rural areas and cooperate with them so that proper information can be given to the various partiess that will handle this.

It appears that each person will be issued a ration book and in case of minors, the parents will be responsible for these books. The public will be advised from time to time as the information comes to the Rationing Board as to any changes that comes to them.

Grenada Venereal Clinic For Selectees Opens Tuesday

Each next Tuesday and every succeeding Tuesday, every man who has been deferred because he has a venerael disease will have to report to the Grenada Venereal Clinic, establisher in an office over Grenada Drug Store, for treatment by a Federal nurse supervised by one of the local physicians. It is understood that considerably over one hundred men of draft age, and otherwise qualified, have escaped military service because of venereal disease. The government proposes to cure these men.

Each man will be notified. If he does not appear on the day and hour set, the sheriff will be sent for him. A stiff penalty is provided for those who fail to report.

A man, suffering from a venereal disease and deferred on that account may, if he so elects, receive REGULAR treatment from his own physician, but he MUST receive proper certification that he has received such regular treatment.

Former Grenada County Man Dead At Shaw

Lester Leroy Tapley, 50, former citizen of Grenada County, but for many years a citizen of Shaw Mississippi, died in his office in Shaw last Thursday morning. Mr. Tapley went to school in Grenada when he was a boy, but later moved to the delta where he has made a fine business success as a planter. Surviving him are his widow and three sons, James, Thomas, and Harold.

Just a few weeks ago he was visiting the writer—a boyhood friend—and Lester looked to be in the pink of health.

Our sincere sympathy is extended the bereaved members of his family.

While many people hate to give up their lands for the use of the army, there appears to be no rebellious spirit among them.

U. S. O.

"LIVING EVIDENCE TO THE AMERICAN SOLDIER, SAILOR"

The Army's need for USO intensifies with every day that the war moves forward. War does not change human nature. Soldiers still want a friendly welcome and a decent chance for recreation when they leave camp. As leave hours are reduced and men must stay close to camp for sudden orders, the USO clubs in the neighboring communities take on increasing importance. USO has risen magnificently to meet both the pre-war and the war emergencies of our armed forces. It has given living evidence to the American soldier and sailor that his own people at home are thinking of him and care about him now.

The volume of USO's service must increase as hundreds of thousands more men put on the uniform; as soldiers and sailors everywhere speed to the outposts of a nation at war.

In this emergency we know we can count on USO and on the millions of Americans behind USO.

F. H. OSBORN, Brig. Gen.
Chief of the Special Service Branch.

Mrs. J. K. Avent submits the following information concerning Defense efforts in Grenada:

A volunteer is a person who serves without remuneration. Some volunteers will be equipped to give service of a professional quality while others will be untrained.

The ability of this country to defend itself depends as much upon the stamina and morale of its men, women and children as upon the caliber of the armed forces and their equipment. Therefore it behooves each community to make sure that the services and facilities for its citizens are as adequate as the organized community services and volunteers can make them.

The various types of service in a community that volunteers can perform are as follows:

Civilian protection programs nurse's aides, the medical corps, fire watchers, rescue squads, drivers corps, auxiliary policemen, auxiliary fireman, road repair crews and emergency fire and housing corps. There are opportunities for recreative and special services for men in uniform and defense workers. Opportunities in the field of health, in the field of nutrition and field of education.

Building of adequate civilian defense must be done long in advance of the need, to meet new dangers that may arise. Today we hold the enemy at a distauce, but battle grounds shift and we must get ready to deal with whatever the future may hold for us. Men training is only the first step for without organization the civilian effort would be a mob and not an army. To do this men and women must learn new lessons in how to act as units and not as individuals. These lessons are hard to learn. The work calls for little that is glamorous, and much, very much, that is mere routine.

The volunteer center gives the report that the following are enrolled in service:

51 auxiliary policemen, 4 auxiliary firemen, 22 air raid wardens, 8 fire watchers, 15 in medical corps, 23 in the motor corps, 6 in the rescue squad, one in the decontamination corps, six messengers, 50 emergency food and housing, two road repair nurse's aide, 10 home nursing 18, mechanics cause 70 in nutrition classes, 51 aircraft warning service 7, first aid 195 white, first aid 120 colored.

Special Services At First Methodist Church

In our service Sunday morning, we will have as our guests some students from State College, Rev. H. M. Patrick and Shep Warner of State College will be with us in our services Sunday morning and Sunday evening. We hope you will be with us in these services. We want to urge our young people to come and help us welcome these young men from State College.

We are very glad indeed to have a group of Children's Worker from over the Conference meet in our church Friday and Saturday. Rev. Roy A. Geesham has called this conference of Children's Workers. In this conference we will have, Mrs. M. E. Woodson, Conference Director of Children's Work. We will also have with us, Mrs. C. A. Parks, of New Albany. Mrs. Parks is Director of Children's Work in the Corinth District.

PRESS WANTED

If any of our printer brethren have a good used 12X18 press for sale cheap for cash, write us all about it.

Organization Of Various Phases Of Local U. S. O. Given In Detail

(Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, Pub. Chm.)

The U. S. O. is just what its name implies, a United Service Organization for National Defense.

The United Service Organization for National Defense, Inc. is composed of the national organizations of Young Men's Christian Association, National Catholic Community Service, The Salvation Army, Young Women's Christian Association, Jewish Welfare Board and National Travelers Aid Association. These organizations from the U. S. O. and the building housing the many activities sponsored by the U. S. O. is built adjacent to the camp. One is liable to ask "Why is the Red Cross not listed in the U. S. O. roster?" The answer is simple, the Red Cross functions within the camp while the U. S. O. is adjacent to the camp. The U. S. O. sponsors social activities religious programs and cooperation and extends a helpful hand to the soldiers, the men of the navy and of the air force, no matter where they are.

Grenada is faced with a very definite possibility of having an army camp, and this possibility was the inspiration for a well attended and purposeful meeting at the First Baptist Church on Friday afternoon, February 20th at 2 o'clock.

The Rev. Glen Eric Wiley, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and permanent chairman of the U. S. O. Grenada County, called the meeting to order.

His brief address summerized the Grenada situation and committees announced. We are publishing the committees and ask our readers to clip this article and save it for future reference. If any information is needed, you are to call the chairman of the group under which you are to cooperate. This has been requested as much confusion results from being uninformed about whom to call pertaining to U. S. O. matters.

It is the publicity committee's intention to cooperate with the U. S. O. in every way to further its growth and efficiency. The Grenada County Weekly will have a U. S. O. column each week, and it is our hope that publicity will be given regularly in the Daily Star and Commercial Appeal. At this time, it is well to remember, that camp addresses of men in the armed forces of our country and information of vital interest concerning our armed forces, will not be published. At no time is a citizen privileged to pass on live news or gossip from men in the armed forces. Each one of us must stop loose talk. We are at war. A very dangerous foe is listening to every remark we make. Be more careful of what you repeat, if you must repeat rumors.

Now back to the U. S. O. committees as submitted by the Rev. C. A. Pharr, Chairman of committees on committees.

U. S. O.

Rev. G. E. Wiley, Permanent Chairman; Rev. C. A. Pharr, Permanent Vice-Chairman: Mrs. L. D. Boone, Secretary-Treasurer.

Two others from same church, Mrs. Barney Echols, Central Baptist Church Chairman. Two others from same church. Mrs. Donald Sharp, Church of Christ Chairman. Two others from same church, Mrs. W. T. Merritt, First Presbyterian Church Chaiman. Two others from same church.

Suggestions: Encourage letter writing to service men in camp. Family, friends, employer to write frequent cheering letters. Create close fellowship of families who have loved ones in service. Arrange for "Home Hospitality" "week-end hospitality" for men in local camp. Sunday dinner for men in uniform. Have list of homes which will receive service men during week for meal on few hours' notice. Help "Newcomers" find their place in community.

COMMUNITY HOSPITALITY COMMITTEE

Mrs. J. K. Avent, President Council of City Clubs, Chairman, Committee to be named from members of city Clubs.

Suggestions: Social life of men in local camp and their familes.

NOT IN CITY OF GRENADA

Mrs. Sam Gillon, Gore Springs; Mrs. McMahan, Holcomb: Mrs. William Bain, Elliott: Mrs. Lee Rouse, Jr., Graysport; Mrs. Geo. Williams, Hardy; Mrs. Henry Willis, Route 3.

A committee composed of Rev. C. S. Liles, E. L. Morrow, Mrs. John Rundle and Mrs. Whyte Whitaker, was named to go to Hattiesburg and investigate the methods of cooperation, through the U. S. O. at Hattiesburg with Camp Shelby. They plan to spend Monday, March 2nd in Hattiesburg.

Good seed are really worth ten times what you pay for sorry seed.

County Health Unit Probable

Several physicians from the State Board of Health and from the United States Health Service have been in Grenada with a view of establishing a County Health Unit here if the army camp comes. Competent local men believe the establishment of such a unit will be imperative if a huge mass of soldiers and construction workers should suddenly descend upon the community. As we understand the proposition, the unit, if established, will receive its maintenance money from the government, the city and the county.

I guess somebody is going to have to glue Dr. Clanton's teeth in his mouth for he takes them out at the most unexpected times.

HELP SAVE SINNERS

The business interests of Grenada can help save two sinners to salvation by rushing in enough printing orders Friday to keep Horn and Greenfield, our printers, out of devilment over the week-end.

Help stamp out Sin.

Tom Bailey Talks On The Mission Of The Church

Mr. Bailey reminded us of our obligations to those who have been people of a great faith, to do, for we are nothing to the Doubters. They did not build our churches and schools. The doubters were not responsible for the progress of the community and the Nation. Worthwhile things have been accomplished by the people who have had faith. Confidence is essential to progress. It is essential to the welfare of any community or nation. We certainly need to be people of a great faith now with all the heavy responsibilities that are upon us.

Another thing that Mr. Bailey emphasized was that the individual should accept his responsibility. He should not expect others to do his work. Too many of us want others to make all the sacrifices. We want to enjoy the blessings of the church and never make any sacrifice for the church. Too many people want to enjoy freedom without accepting the responsibility that goes along with the preservation of freedom. We would not be that selfish. There is work for all of us to do. The church gives each individual an opportunity for service.

Then, there is the importance of what we would call the little things. We are always thinking in terms of the big things. But those who make the world a better place in which to live are the ones who are faithful even in the least of their duties. Jesus emphasized the importance of faithfulness in little things. Greatness is achieved by being faithful in all of life's duties.

Mr. Bailey's message was well received by a large congregation. The church was just about filled with people who listened attentively to the message. Bailey was given a genuine welcome. He is one of the leading laymen of the Methodist Church in Mississippi.—Contributed.

"Bobbie" Weir Appointed To Annapolis

Robert Allan Weir, second son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Weir, and now a student at Sunflower Junior College at Moorhead, has received notice that he has been appointed to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. If this young man finishes the course he is now taking—a matter which will be duck soup to this bright young fellow—and if he passes his physical examination, a matter that is almost certain, he will probably enter the Academy in June.

Congratulations are in order.

Books For Soldiers

Have you given your book for the soldiers? If you do not have a book to give, give the price of a good book and help keep up their morale.

The people who have sons in the army are damn tired of the continuance of strikes. If men can be drafted to FIGHT, they can be drafted to WORK. Usurous manufacturers should also have their plants drafted.

"Grenada County News A Specialty; Other News Used Only In Emergencies"

THURSDAY, MARCH 5, 1942

How "I Can Help"

Nearly every person wants to help win the war. Not over 7 percent of them will ever be in the armed forces; perhaps only 15 percent of them will be engaged in shipping and actual work in war industries.

Each of the remaining 78 percent can help in one or all of the following ways:

1. Buy as many defense bonds and stamps as possibe.

2. Conserve waste paper, scrap metals and other materials which can be used in the war effort.

3. Walk to work to conserve vital rubber and gasoline; travel the buses or trains when making long trips.

4. Be conservative in the use of food. Avoid waste. Use left-overs.

5. Carry packages home when their sizes are small Do not insist that packaged goods be further wrapped or sacked. Kraft paper, the material used for sacks and wrapping paper, is the most scarce of all papers.

6. Do not help the Axis nations by speaking disparagingly of England and the other Allies. The Axis method is to divide and conquer. That method has worked well so far. If you hate the English, put your hate in moth balls until after the war. In unity there is strength. Dissention among the Allies will certainly bring defeat to ALL.

7. Do not repeat idle rumors about the location of troops, or repeat any idle rumor that is likely to cause the loss of morale.

8. Keep your hands busy, your mind alert, your tongue still and your head cool.

The British Have Done "Something"

Ill-advised persons, unconsciously playing into the hands of the Axis partners, whose method is to divide and conquer, are absolutely wrong when they say, "The British ain't done nothing."

The British blockade, which prevented Hitler from securing essential materials to prosecute the war, caused Hitler to take the desperate gamble of trying to conquer Russia to obtain vital materials from the Soviets.

True, the British have made many mistakes, but it ill behooves America, whose mistakes have been many and costly, to berate England which stood the gaff alone for more than a year.

Disparaging England and England's effort tends to weaken the bond between the two major allies, America and England, and nothing pleases Hitler more than to hear of dissention between these two powerful nations.

If you just must hate England, place your hate for England in cold storage, or enwrap that hate in moth balls, until the war is won—then revive that hate, if circumstances justify its revival. In the meantime, help strengthen the bond between England and America for if that bond is broken or seriously strained, ALL will be lost.

Banks And Service Charges

All depositors have received notice that certain additional service charges—the details of which were explained in the letters—will henceforth be made against depositors.

In recent years, the banks, in spite of their huge surpluses of cash, have had hard sledding. To some banks, this cash surplus has been an embarrassment for the banks have had extreme difficulty in making SAFE investments with that money.

We are making a wild guess when we guess that a large part of the revenue by the banks has come from exchange on checks, principally government checks.

Banks perform useful services to the community. They are entitled to compensation for their services. They used to make money by borrowing YOUR money on time deposit at 4 percent, and lending it to your neighbor at eight percent. The government, through its various alphebetical organizations, has knocked that kind of business into a cocked hat.

To exist, legitimate businesses, like banks dairies and newspapers, must take in more than they receive. The banks are absolutely right in asking that they be paid for their services.

Good Seed

"Food Will Win The War" is being preached from the housetops. Indeed America has a great problem, in spite of the huge surpluses that the government has accumulated in the warehouses and elevators. America must feed its own people and must furnish millions of tons of food and feed to its allies.

To produce the most abundant yields, good seed are essential. No living person can tell by looking at a seed whether it is a good seed or a bad seed, a prolific seed or a sterile seed. The seed buyer must depend upon the honesty and integrity of the person from whom he buys his seed. Some people still continue to go to the crib, select the largest ears of corn and obtain their seed from these ears. This is a most foolish and a most futile practice. The large ear probably was grown on a stalk that grew in some particular favored spot in the field, or it may have grown in a spot in the field where the stand was poor. A big ear of corn, as such has not more ability to reproduce satisfactorily than a fat overgrown boy.

Squibb's motto is something like this: "The priceless ingredient is the honesty and the integrity of the manufacturer." The priceless ingredient in the seed is the honesty and integrity of the grower and the honesty and integrity of the seed dealer.

The Church is calling for approximately $350,000.00 for the purchase of hymnals and prayer books to be used in army camps and at the present time it is estimated that the cost to the Christian American government to kill one enemy is $50,000. No wonder I am bewildered! How about you? (Mrs. W. W. W.)

Me and the GCW.

United Labor Or United States

Our people are faced with a choice between the salvation of the United States of America and the retention by organized labor of the many gains it has received by virtue of the existence of the national emergency. Is America to continue free or is organized labor to retain all of its privileges? Is Franklin D. Roosevelt to rule the nation, or is John L. Lewis to rule it? These are the questions

A spineless Congress, more interested in getting pensions for its membership and in obtaining more and more "pelf", has so far placed United Labor over and above the United States and THEMSELVES over both.

Like every reader of the Commercial Appeal, we were interested in the editorial by Mr. John Sheffield, and we, like the other readers, applaud his sentiments.

The writer, like Mr. Sheffield, was in the last World War and became a Regiuental Sergeant Major. Like Mr. Sheffield., our first son was born while we were in France. Like Mr. Sheffield, our oldest son—this son who was born while we were in France—is now in the Army and has been for 14 months, having followed his father's footsteps by joining the home company.

This eight-hour day demanded by union labor is all tommyrot. Jesus Christ did not have an eight-hour day. The people who converted the South from a howling wilderness to what it is today knew nothing of an eight hour day, time and a half for overtime and double time on Sundays and holidays. What would happen to MacArthur and his gallant men if they fought until the whistle blew, then layed down their arms? They would be marched to the nearest cliff, lined up and shot. What did the gallant men in the hopeless cause of saving Singapore know of an eight hour day? Giving the devil his dues, what do Hitler's men and the Japanese know of an eight-hour day? What did Mr. Sheffield and the writer know of an eight-hour day when they were in the army 25 years ago?

A pussyfooting, politically minded Congress, by its namby pamby reluctance to regulate labor., has brought this proud nation close to the brink of ruin. Our Congress, more interested in catering to organized labor than in the salvation of this nation, will, learn, come next election time, that organized labor does not control elections, but that the vast body of unorganized men and women, whose sons are suffering for want of weapons, and whose country is seriously endangered because Congress failed to forsee and to provide for the things that all INFORMED persons knew to be impending, will kick out every blasted one of the members of Congress who has been derilect in their duties.

Congress has shown no reluctance to draft men, your son and my son, this married man and that married man, yet it has made no move whatever to draft labor, manufacturing plants, ships, mines or public utilities. Congress STILL places PROPERTY rights above HUMAN rights.

So far as we are personally concerned, we do not expect to vote to send back to Congress a damn man now serving there. We prefer to risk "the evils we know not of" to continuing to risk the evils we DO know of.

The Mail Order Boys

Clayton Rand, editor of The Guide at Gulfport, rejuvenator of the Neshoba Democrat, builder of the progressive town of Philadelphia, past president of the National Editorial Association and author of "Ink On My Hands," once wrote the president of one of the large mail order houses for a small contribution for the Boy Scouts in Philadelphia and received the following reply:

It would be a pleasure to grant your request and the many similar requests received at each of our stores, but if we were to do so, all of our patrons would be equally justified in asking help in worthy causes, such as schools, churches, lodges and other local organizations, or for themselves in case of individual need. Since we have customers at every one of the 50,000 post offices in the United States, the total amount involved would be so great that ultimately the selling price of our goods would be affected.

Mr. Rand also quotes from a statement of the president of one of the large mail order houses as follows:

We have a bureau whose duty it is to read each week the country newspapers from all over the country. There is not a paper of any consequence in all of our trade territory our bureau does not get. The bureau looks over these papers and when we find a town where the merchants are not advertising in the local paper we immediately flood the territory with our literature. It always brings results far in excess of the same effort put forth in territory where the local merchants use the local papers.

The above quotations indicate good business on the part of the mail order boys, but what kind of business does it indicate on the part of the fellows who say, "I've been here blanky blank years and EVERYBODY knows where I am and what I have."

Grenada County's Time

Grenada County has been a part of the 4th Congressional District and a part of the 5th Judicial District ever since 1890.

We have just as able men in this county as they do in any county in the districts. Yet, to our knowledge there has been but one man in all of those fifty years who occupied a district office. That man was Circuit Judge A. T. Roane, father of Sell and Arch Roane. Frankly, we do not recall whether he was elected or appointed to fill out an unexpired term.

This county has never, to our knowledge, furnished a Congressman or a District Attorney. The district attorneyship is often a stepping stone to Congress. We cannot believe but there are men in this county who would serve well as District Attorney; and, if any Grenada man should seek the office, the people of the other counties should recognize the long "orphaned" period of this county and, in fairness, give Grenada County a break.

Those fellows in Congress had full opportunity to register their disapproval of the pension bill, for the Speaker asked for objections. Do not be misled by these "Me too" fellows who never cry, "I was agin it and voted agin it, NOBODY, according to the record voted "agin it".

The City of Grenada, like the U. S. Army, needs a Pre-Planning unit to prapare for the possible huge increase in our population.

Bring MacArthur home.

An Open Letter To The President

Dear F. D. R.:

Surrounded as you are in Washington by many men who may be in perpetual agreement with you on matters of strategy, may I take this opportunity of suggesting certain changes with respect to your military policy that would meet with the hearty approval of millions of soldiers, and veterans of the United States Army, Navy and Marines?

When you were Assistant Secretary of the Navy in the first World War, you were extremely active in all phases of naval operations—even making dangerous submersions in submarine trials. You had your finger on the pulse of all ranks of the Navy, and changes and innovations that you introduced were then, and still are, in the best interests of the U. S. Navy.

As Commander-in-Chief of the U. S. Army you have the power to do more in the interests of promoting greater harmony, finer spirit, and more perfect morale in the Army than all the private citizens of this country combined.

But is this much desired improvement in army morale to be achieved by the nomination of a man such as Mr. William Knudson, erstwhile head of Production Management, to be a General in the U. S. Army?

Mr. Knudson represented in American industry exactly what Mr. Neville Chamberlain represented in British politics. He represented business as usual "while Rome burned:" he represented compromise with reality.

Mr. Knudson represented peak production of automobiles while our own army and air corps were in desperate need of armament and of munitions. He wanted pleasure cars for all while the democratic nations of the world cried desperately for weapons with which to defend democracy against the iron will of totalitarian dictatorships that were bent upon the utter destruction of democracy—lock, stock and barrel. This in spite of the fact that Mr. Knudson's native Denmark was under the Nazi curse!

With all due respect to Mr. Knudson's ability as a production engineer in civilian life, he certainly does not appear to be of the stuff of which Generals are made. Why kick Mr. Knudson out of Production Management, to land him comfortably in the arm chair of a General? Is a dismal failure in Production Management to be transformed into a brilliant military officer. Is his assignment as a General to be the signal for rejoicing in the U. S. Army?

Or is the much desired improvement in army morale to be achieved by the assignment of the ex-colonel Lindbergh to duty in the War Department?

Charles A. Lindbergh, as the blatant mouthpiece of German propaganda in the United States, took special occasion to insult the President of the United States on a public platform. The insinuation that there would be a termination of popular elections in this country, under your regime, was the most gratuitous insult offered to a Chief Executive of the American nation in this generation.

With all due respect to Mr. Lindbergh's civilian flying achievements in years gone by, is not Mr. Lindbergh the personification of anti-democratic, anti-republican sentiment: is he not the personification of pro-nazi, pro-fascist sentiment in the United States?

Mr. Lindbergh, the recipient of Herr Hitler's decorations, was a firm and convinced believer in the sterility of democracy. He was an avowed advocate of Hitlerian 'wave of the future' despotism. Is Mr. Lindbergh, therefore, a suitable person to assign to duty with the War Department?

Is the rank and file of the army expected to rise and cheer when it is announced that Mr. Lindbergh has been permitted to return to duty? Is this the substance, or the essence, of which army morale is built?

But in the turmoil and strife of directing the tremendous war effort at home, and of supporting, stimulating and guiding the war efforts of our far flung allies, Heaven knows how few are your errors of judgment when consideration is given to the myriad of decisions that are daily forced upon your marvelous brain.

May I humbly suggest Mr. President that you profit by a leaf out of the personal experience of your friend Woodrow Wilson. As you well recall also the action of the old Rough Rider of Spanish American War fame, Teddy Roosevelt, in offering his services to be used in the United States Army.

Well do I remember how we felt in the army when Woodrw Wilson, for personal and tactical reasons, declined to accept Teddy Roosevelt's magnificent offer. It reflected on the prestige of Woodrow Wilson: but it was the U. S. Army that suffered most. For the dynamic Teddy would have been worth more to the spirit and morale of the army than one hundred thousand recruits!

Today we have a generation of administrative officers heading the U. S. Army. We have a surplus of office' Generals: we have a scarcity of 'combat' Generals! Yet by a stroke of the pen, you can do much to remedy the effect of the condition over night. You can give the Army a shot in the arm that would be more stimulating that the addition of the best one hundred thousand recruits available in this country.

General Douglas MacArthur has now performed his duties in the Philippines. As you so truly stated tonight, "General MacArthur has magnificently exceeded the previous estimates, and he and his men are gaining eternal glory therefor."

The date on which the Philippine Islands fall is no longer of paramount importance to the United States, or to the world. For Philippino and American soldiers have already demonstrated to all the nations of the Orient that Asiatic and American soldiers have given Japanese armies the fight of their lives, although they were greatly outnumbered, and were cut off from reinforcements, and supplies from the United States.

General MacArthur's work in the Philippines is done—well done! His great work in the U. S. Army at home should now commence at the earliest possible moment. No American of this generation is qualified to do for our armed forces what General MacArthur is qualified to do.

Mr. President, remember the loss to U. S. Army morale and prestige that resulted from Woodrow Wilson's refusal to accept the services of the dynamic Theodore Roosevelt, in the first World War.

History is now moving at catastrophic speed. Procrastination is the thief of time. Take time by the forelock! The Army needs a hell bent, hard riding, combat officer to drive our war machine at top speed.

We have that man. He is Douglas MacArthur. General Douglas MacArthur is this generattion's military man of destiny. You have generously recognized his brilliant and courageous competence. This is the day and this is the hour to promote him. USE him while there is still time! And send some of our other Generals a few cases of the brand of Scotch that Mac drinks!

Cordially and sincerely yours,
February 23rd. HERBERT B. ALLEN.

U. D. C. HELD MEETING FEBRUARY 26TH

On Thursday, February 26the the U. D. C. held its regular meeting at the most hospitble home of Mrs. B. F. Thomas, with the members, who were able to attend, with several members sick we were short of no's, but we had a very enthusiastic meeting. Our meeting opened with regular ceremonies, after which, the regular routine of business. Then Mrs. Fannie Morrison, our president, presented our guest speaker for the afternoon, she being none other than one of our beloved teachers, Miss Estelle Turner, (who needed no introduction) she gave us the "Life of L. Q. C. Lamar." This was very interesting and full of good historical information. Then Mrs. Morrison gave us the "Life of Gen. Walthall," who for 17 years was a Grenalian, and the home of Mrs. Mollie Townes was his home. We would be glad to have those in Grenada who are eligible to come and join us. We are indeed grateful to Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Granberry for the lovely afternoon. Hope we may go back again.—Reporter.

Singapore

You boys from good old London town,
From Sydney and Bombay;
Your pals around old Mother Earth
Will ne'er forget the way.
You sweated through the jungle heat
To keep the Japs at bay:
But all that went for nothing when
The Brass Hats lost the day!

If soldiering with courage high
Could save old Singapore,

Waste Paper And Magazines

The Grenada folks are cooperating with the Boy Scouts in the Waste Paper and Magazine Project. The Boy Scouts are doing the best they can in their Tuesday and Friday pick-up. If you will kindly tie up the newspapers and magazines separately and put other waste paper in a card board container and put these on the front porch the boys will appreciate it. Old card board boxes and pieces of card board are not desired but if you will pack the card board boxes with waste paper, it will help.

Sometimes the boys have trouble getting trucks for these drives. They will appreciate volunteer service of any truck owners for Tuesdays and Fridays from 3:30 to 5:00.

Very sincerely yours,
JOHN RUNDLE,
Supt. Grenada City Schools

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

There are two simple things that ANYONE can do to help in the war effort: keep your mouth shut and do not disparage any of our allies.

A group of our businessmen went to Tullahoma, Tennessee, near which town Camp Forrest is located, to see how things were handled there. A wise move. It is likely that we will receive OFFICIAL information at any time now that a camp will be located here. The War Department will be courteous enough to tell Ford, Bilbo and Doxey and each of these gentlemen will speed government-paid telegrams to men of prominence here, each trying to beat the other.

The ex-soldier will understand us when we say that there is more latrine gossip about the camp here than there are microbes on an alley cat. There is nothing official yet. The signs point to the location of a camp here, and that's as far as anyone can say.

Mr. B. C. Adams and Mr. Giles Patty are in Washington, D. C. attending to business.

Mr. E. S. Barrentine, who has been in Chicago, will be at home with his family this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ence Burt and Mr. William Burt, of Wichita Falls, Texas, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Burt on Sunday and Monday.

Major and Mrs. Wade are now residing in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Simmons, Jr., which is located on Line Street.

Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

—V—

Visited out at Glenwild Monday afternoon and met, among others, Mr. Boynton, who is in charge of the office. He, like the other gentlemen connected with the engineering and clerical work in connection with the planning of the camp, seems to be both affable and efficient.

That office at Glenwild which contains one department for the U. S. Engineer personnel and another for the office personnel of the Chas. T. Main engineering firm, is a beehive of activity. All employees are working under forced draft. The "latrine gossip" is that the plans must be ready to submit to the authorities in Washington after 75 working days.

Out there and in the field Sunday is just another day. The Japs are not working on an eight-hour day nor are the men and women preparing plans for the army camp.

Our idea of this camp proposition is this: when the Land Acquisition Department finishes its work and when the engineers complete their surveys and plans, we believe the big boy in Washington will wire the Land Acquisition Department to start acquiring the land, and will turn to some good old Irish contractor, Kelly or O'Brien and say, "Hell, we have no time for you to figure on this job; go ahead and build this camp according to plans and we will give you cost plus ten." That's just our idea.

We met Brother Corley, partner in the firm of Corley and Currie, contractors for the erection of the addition to the hosiery mill, Tuesday, and he appears to be a fine gentleman.

Aint they sweet.

March 1st, like the "ides of March," has come and gone, and our subscription rates are now $2.00 for local subscribers and $2.50 for "foreigners."

John Pressgrove's outfit is usually busy these days but moves on smoothly and pleasantly.

Our esteemed supervisors met in solemn session Monday and Tuesday of this week. With the possibility that the state will require all of the gasoline money to meet the road bond requirements, and with the reduction in the number of cars in service, the supervisors face serious problems in the maintenance of country roads. In the past practically all the money for this purpose came from the sale of car tags and from the county's part of the gas tax.

Aint they sweet.

Our favorite waitress has not been anywhere recently and has no plans to go anywhere so we have had no opportunity to put her name in the paper, but here it is anyway.

Grenada is about as crowded as is a cattle tick which has been on a fat cow for fourteen days.

Just read Clayton Rand's book, "Ink On My Hands," and it was thoroughly enjoyed. Clayton is just as good a speaker as he is a writer, maybe better.

"Red" was sick a few days during the past week, but is on the job again.

We have had so many renewals and so many new subscribers here lately that we doubt that we will ever get to them, but will crowd in an item that Mrs. C. B. Robinson is a new subscriber.

The old lady has been stretched out here lately fooling with potential occupants of rooms belonging to potential owners of rooms. Nobody envies her the job.

Our subscriber, Ed Provine, has been transferred from the U. S. Engineer department at Flora to the U. S. Engineer department now set up at Glenwild.

Folks are going to have to bring in their tents or trailers ere long, for furnished apartments are non-esistent and rooms as scarce as hen's teeth.

All of her many friends are grieved over the serious condition of Mrs. Dotie Garner who was stricken Tuesday. Mr. Alf Guntharpe, brother in law of Mrs. Garner, and occupying the same house too continues quite ill.

Dear Mr. Red: yes, I'm beginning to see the light. The big trouble originates in Washington, where Congressmen vote themselves pensions, and not at home where the people generally are willing but are not properly nd intelligently led.

It's worse un it looks!

You'll agree that a telephone cord full of twists and kinks is unsightly and awkward to use—but did you know that it can also seriously affect service?

The conductor in your telephone cord is composed of scores of thread-like wires. They are very durable and, with normal use, will last indefinitely. But knots and kinks create an unnatural and intensified friction which is apt to break some of these tiny wires. When this occurs, it causes an unpleasant, static-like noise on your telephone.

Keep your telephone free from this trouble by keeping the cord free from kinks.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

By B. JANEITH KNIGHT
(McClure Syndicate—WNU Service.)

"THAT'LL tell you whether I'm a contrary little devil or not!" She banged the green iron lip of the street corner letter box viciously; stopped to read, 3 p. m. and 9 p. m. "You'll get it in the morning and you can go to Timbuktu, for all I care!"

Snip tilted nose held high, she went back to her apartment and slammed her door so hard the man in the apartment below thought it was the first jerk of an earthquake.

"One word from me and you'll come after me," she stormed. "One word? Well, I sent you two. In the mail instead of over the telephone where you could answer back."

The springs in the couch yelled in sudden crushed surprise as she landed in their exact middle and beat the top with angry, sharp heels.

"There's no getting a letter back, once it's in one of those green monsters," she sighed. "I don't want it back," she snapped the next minute. "I couldn't stand a man who talked like you did, Peter Straff. You stood there," she pointed a well tanned small finger at a spot beside the one big chair, "and said some awful things to me because (sniff, sniff) just because I wanted you to stay in town and keep your office job instead of (sniff) tearing half way across the (sniff, sniff) country to build a silly old road."

She was seeing again the defiant girl who had stood before the mirror while Peter had told her some plain truths.

"Peggy Copley," he had said, "you're a contrary little devil. You think every day is the Fourth of July and that you're the whole, original Declaration of Independence. You've been shooting off fireworks so long you think even I am a fuse."

He said it, cold with fury, stern with indignation.

"We love each other so," she had smiled at him, softly, once more; swallowing her top-most gulp of anger.

But Peter didn't react according to schedule.

"I've just been a dog on a leash," he barked at her, "sitting up and rolling over at your bidding. This offer is the biggest thing that's ever come my way. I wouldn't let even you keep me from building that road!"

He fairly snatched his car keys and gloves from the stand.

"I don't leave until noon. But, I'm going. I've signed the contract and I'm packed. I told you last week I was going. I suppose you didn't believe me. There are good accommodations at any one of the three little towns nearby where you'd have a fairly good time. Just say 'come' and I'll hop right over and get you. I'd love having you along. I'm dead set on marrying you. But, I'm going to build that road!"

And he was gone.

"Snap your fingers and make me jump through a hoop?" she had stormed at the door. "No sir!"

So she had stomped right out to mail him one big sheet of white paper in the exact middle of which she'd scrawled in large, bold letters, "Goodby, forever."

The white heels scuffed a little, slid down, relaxed. The storm was over. The world was ended. She might as well die . . .

• • •

The little clock chimed eight and Peg opened her eyes.

"I didn't die," she sighed, "I didn't even go to bed. This morning he'll get that . . . that insult and I can't stop it. Dear God, why do you let fools like me do such things to grand men like Pete?"

Just from habit she tubbed and dressed; slowly, mechanically. The telephone rang as she was leaving. She went to answer it on brown heels that dragged.

"Yes?" she said in a flat voice.

"There's a letter here," said the girl in the office down-stairs, "in your handwriting, addressed to Peter Straff. It's been returned for postage. Do you want me to put a stamp on it and send it out? The postman's waiting."

"Tear it up," shouted Peggy, a whole hallelujah chorus singing in her voice, "tear it up and give me an outside line . . . quick!"

Advance Agent

A tornado is a special kind of storm. It is a storm with whirling wind. Another name for it is "whirlwind," and sometimes it is called a "twister."

When a tornado breaks, people can see a cloud, more or less in the shape of a funnel, hanging downward. The bottom of it may touch, or almost touch, the ground.

The wind whirls at a speed of hundreds of miles an hour, but the twisting mass does not advance that fast. Often it moves ahead only 20 or 30 miles an hour, giving people good warning to get out of the way. The advancing motion may be as much as 50 miles an hour.

The tornado sweeps a rather narrow path. This path may be only 40 or 50 feet wide. Now and then, however, the path is more than 1,000 feet wide.

Sometimes the tornado moves along for a distance of from 50 to 100 miles. In other cases it dies out after going ahead only two or three miles.

HOG PRODUCTION AND FARM PLAN

Plenty of Grain Is Seen as Necessary for Success.

By E. M. Regenbrecht
(Swine Husbandman, Texas A. & M. College.)

Hog production, a basic item in the Food for Victory program, easily can be made successful if properly fitted into a profitable farming plan.

Especially suited as a small enterprise, hog production primarily is dependent for success upon the availability of an abundance of grain feed. Hogs always pay more for corn, barley, or grain sorghums than does the grain market. About four pounds of feed produces a pound of pork, but the feed must be properly balanced. Feeds used to balance the farm grain usually are higher in price than the latter but the quantity is small.

Farmers who keep from one to three sows almost always make a success, Regenbrecht says. Hogs do not do well when run in large groups because sanitation and disease prevention become serious problems with large herds. The principal item of expense in hog production is the grain feed, but if this is grown on the farm, or obtainable locally at reasonable prices, the enterprise easily can be established on a profitable basis.

While a sandy, well-drained soil is the most suitable, hogs can be successfully raised on a heavy black soil, but in such case concrete feeding floors are almost a necessity. Hog pastures are necessary, with small grain for winter, and sudan for summer the best. Native grasses such as bermuda are good for a short time in the spring, but soon get hard and tough, and become of little value. A good pasture will furnish 50 per cent of the needed protein and otherwise reduce the cost of production.

Suitable equipment — a movable hog house, a few troughs and a self-feeder—can be built at small cost. A concrete wallow can be classed as almost a necessity. If hogs are kept comfortable they make rapid and economical gains and losses from overeating are avoided. It is likewise true that hogs which do not have a dry, warm place in which to bed during the winter will not make as much profit as those properly sheltered.

Save Money by Making Own 'Homemade' Soap

With the fats and oil situation giving this country considerable worry, rural families with cooking fats available can save by making homemade soap.

Enameled or granite ware is suitable for small batches of soap, but for larger batches an iron kettle is recommended. A large granite or wooden spoon is best for stirring.

The four ingredients of soap are lye, water, fat and perfume. Lye should be pure and uniform, and if possible soft water should be used since it will improve the quality of soap.

Fat used should be clean and light-colored and it should be clarified as it accumulates. Clean tin cans, well covered, are best for storing the fat until a sufficient amount has been collected for soap making. Both fats and oils must be washed free from salt. Rancid greases may be purified by boiling with a solution of one part of vinegar and five parts of water.

Scents such as oil of citronella, bergamot, oil of lavender, geranium or sassafras may be added to perfume the soap. This will help destroy the odor of the fat.

Killing Cattle Lice

A dairy herd infested with lice causing severe cow discomfort cannot provide top milk production. Powdered sabadilla dusted on the infested parts is a popular louse killer. It may be used alone or mixed with equal quantities of powdered tobacco and flowers of sulphur. Work the powder well into the hide during dusting. Blanket the animal for a few hours after treatment and thoroughly brush the skin, preferably out of doors.

It is well to repeat this treatment in 15 days in order to get lice that hatch from the nits. Use care when applying the sabadilla powder not to get it up the nose and mouth. A handkerchief or doubled cheesecloth placed over the nose and mouth will prevent irritation.

What Next??

A writer with a flair for "looking up" information tells that honey isn't merely a jar of liquid amber to give zest to the breakfast toast and flapjacks. During the past few years packing firms have bought honey in large lots for curing hams, and many carloads of it have been bought by brewers. Hydromel (honey and water) is one of the oldest drinks known in Europe, and honey brandy and honey champagne still are considered delicacies.

PATTERNS SEWING CIRCLE

DOESN'T this picture of our two attractive aprons inspire you to start a sewing bee at once? Both are so pleasing in style and so easy to make! And either of them will add decided charm to your home attire.

One pattern, No. 1538-B gives complete directions, for making both styles. You'll like the pinafore for day-long duty. Slip it on over your head, tie it in back—and there it is, firmly adjusted, neatly in place no matter how active you may be. The wide gracefully shaped belt actually slims your figure at the waistline. The full skirt is generously cut to give your dress complete protection.

You'll certainly want several versions of the smaller apron! They can be so decorative in bright checked ginghams, striped chambrays and plain broadcloth.

• • •

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1538-B is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 (34) pinafore apron requires 2½ yards 35-inch material, 4½ yards ric-rac. Small apron, size 16, 2 yards 32-inch material. Send order to:

Household Hints

A tablespoon of granulated sugar mixed with the fat or meat drippings of a pot roast gives the roast a brown color and adds flavor to the stock and gravy.

• • •

To bring out the full flavor of raisins, dates, currants or figs, soak them in a little boiling water for five minutes. Two tablespoons of boiling water for each half cup of fruit will be satisfactory.

• • •

Salt meat requires longer boiling than fresh. Put it into cold water, quickly bring it to a boil, then let it simmer.

• • •

Always keep perfume in a dark place. Daylight will affect every odor differently, according to its formula. In extreme cases perfume turns bright red as soon as it has been exposed to the sun.

• • •

Keep your furnace, flues and chimney clean. Dirt and soot cut down furnace efficiency. Cleaning once a year should be enough, but if you burn a high-soot coal, your furnace may need cleaning twice a season.

• • •

Dampness often comes up through cracks in cement floors. To stop the cracks, chisel them to between a quarter and one-half inch wide, then fill them with hot tar. Specially prepared commercial cement can also be used.

• • •

A siphon of charged water is an excellent fire extinguisher as the carbonic acid gas in the water helps to stifle the flames. The siphon can be tilted, and the fluid will carry to a considerable height such as the top of a blazing curtain.

High 'Sound' Waves

Supersonic "sound" waves, or those which vibrate more than 20,000 times a second and are, therefore, inaudible to the human ear, can do such odd tricks as vaporize heavy oil, set fire to chips of wood, cook eggs without heating them and crumble glass into fine powder.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Sailor Discovers That Appearances Deceive

The naval recruit was getting on very well with the blue-eyed and sweetly fragile damsel at the dance. Naturally he suggested having a bite to eat. She readily accepted, and they strolled into the dining room.

Presently, the sailor noticed that one waiter was staring at his partner rather too intently. At last he tackled the man.

"Don't you know it's very rude to stare at ladies?" he snapped.

"Sorry, sir," was the meek reply, "but it ain't rudeness—it's admiration, sir. This is the sixth time she's been down to supper tonight!"

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for March 8

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

DISCOVERING WHY PEOPLE DRINK BEVERAGE ALCOHOL

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 43:34; Psalm 104:14, 15; Proverbs 31:4-7; Ecclesiastes 2:1-3, 10, 11; Isaiah 56:12; I Corinthians 10:6, 7.

GOLDEN TEXT—Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.—Proverbs 20:1.

The alcohol problem receives attention in four lessons of each year. This is the first one for 1942 and brings before us a number of scriptures not often used, in order to suggest the drinker's reasons for drinking. Other matters appear, but we shall limit ourselves to presenting these reasons, together with the Christian answer to each one.

Why do men drink?

I. To Be Sociable (Gen. 43:34).

At the banquet prepared by Joseph the allowance for Benjamin was greatly increased, and they "drank and were merry." How often that has been the plea which has led into drinking and into drunkenness. The "social glass" has often led to the drunkard's grave.

Well, surely God wants us to be sociable. Yes, He does, and the perfect provision for man's social nature is found in Christian fellowship.

II. To Be Happy (Ps. 104:14, 15).

Wine is supposed to bring happiness, and we may admit that it does bring a temporary lift which some call happiness. But who is satisfied with happiness? It depends entirely on what "happens." If the wrong thing happens we are unhappy. We need a deep abiding joy, and only a right relationship to God can give that.

III. To Evade Responsibility (Prov. 31:4, 5).

When life's burdens become too much for him the weakling seeks relief and evades his responsibilities in the deadening power of alcohol. But that doesn't solve the problem. It is still there when sobriety returns, and usually more serious than ever. What can a man do? The answer is, turn to God. He gives wisdom, grace and strength.

IV. To Forget Sorrow (Prov. 31:6).

"Drown your sorrows" is the deceptive promise of liquor; but they stand right there beside man, and when his poor befuddled head begins to clear they present themselves more persistently than ever. What's the answer? The God of all comfort is ready to bear man's sorrows or to give him grace to bear them and to lead him out into a place of peace and victory.

V. To Forget Poverty (Prov. 31:7).

Heavy is the affliction of poverty in a world of plenty. Sometimes it is the result of carelessness or of sin, but often it is the lot of those who are innocently caught in its grip. Men have tried to forget, to "drown" even this problem in drink, and have only made their poverty worse and more unbearable.

VI. To Find Satisfaction (Eccl. 2:1-3, 10, 11).

The book of Ecclesiastes gives the account of a man "under the sun," that is, apart from God's guidance and blessing, seeking to satisfy the cravings of his heart in many ways. All of them prove vain, including the effort to find it in wine and in pleasure.

Frustrated souls often seek release through intoxicants. They gain a measure of liberty and a sense of masterful power, but it is all as delusive as the dreams of grandeur of the insane. It is even worse, for it is a false condition, deliberately created and soon lost, together with lost character and decency of life. The morning after brings only the deepened despair of greater dissatisfaction.

VII. To Stimulate Hope (Isa. 56:12).

A certain fearful looking forward to the time of judgment tends to dampen the drinker's enthusiasm. So he drinks more to reawaken in his heart the "hope" that tomorrow will not bring reckoning, but will be another "good" day. The world has no real hope, in fact, the word itself has lost its true meaning and indicates only a sort of wishful thinking. Is there any real hope? Oh, yes, and the Christian has it, hope that is a confident expectation of the fulfillment of God's every promise. That kind of hope takes care of tomorrow—and all the tomorrows.

VIII. To Encourage Play (I Cor. 10:6, 7).

Paul warns against the folly of the "eat, drink, and be merry" philosophy. That road ends in disaster.

Does not God want us to play? Indeed He does. He gave us the instinct for recreation. We need pleasant relaxation, and He has provided for us all the beauties of nature, all the pleasures of wholesome play, and all in the finest of fellowship with His people and with Himself. Thus we find real recreation—not just fun that leaves us empty and dissatisfied.

Latest Silhouette Combines Box Pleats With Long Torso

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IN DISCUSSING and planning for a program of timely dress for women during the war period, it has been definitely conceded by everyone concerned in fashion industries and design that in order to render the highest service women must see to it that they are an inspiration in appearance as well as in deed.

This sentiment is reflected in the charming costumes illustrated above. These models, selected from a galaxy designed and displayed by the style creators of Chicago in their spring showings, are just the sort that women will love to wear and soldiers will take delight in seeing.

Gay in color and young in feeling is the ensemble shown to the left in the foreground of the above illustration. Here a navy coat in spun rayon and wool mixture is worn over a red and white printed crepe frock. The self-fabric ties, tipped with little plastic dice, repeat the print motif of the dress, thus making a new-looking closing for the coat. White saddle stitching trims pockets, sleeves and the red leather applique on the coat front.

To the right in the foreground a novelty striped print in white and red on green ground is paired with a bright red spun rayon and wool jacket. Self fabric ruching trims the dress collar which is worn outside the cardigan jacket. The skirt has all-around box pleats below a deep hip yoke.

The costume shown to the right in the above illustration conveys the most welcome and highly important style news, that the bolero costume has returned in all its glory to the fashion picture. You will see boleros played up throughout the style program this season. In this case self-color eyelet embroidery elaborates the bolero jacket of a two-piece navy sheer costume. The bodice, softly draped at the top, is pink.

To the left above in the picture is shown a two-piece dress that uses a shantung weave, combining white, orange and brown in daring contrast. The separate skirt features box pleats from a hip yoke. Box pleats are really newer than side pleating. Eminently correct for a wartime "suit wedding" is the creamy beige sheer ensemble at the top right in the above illustration. The full-length coat looks like a dress but is really a wide pleated skirt seamed to a jacket top, with self-covered buttons down the front from neck to hemline. Finely pleated bowknots trim the four slot pockets that adorn jacket and skirt. The dress worn under this coat repeats the pleated skirt of the coat, while gathered bodice fullness developes from a deep yoke.

Generally speaking, the favorite silhouette is the long torso effect with some sort of pleated skirt. Also, there is much interest in slim wraparound skirts and those which have slenderizing harem drapes.

New Flounce

This dress has two very important style messages to convey. The one is the coming vogue for allover embroidery on wool, or rayons and cottons that look like wool. The other is the news that simple wool frocks will be finished off at the hemline with a flounce. Flounces are among the ways designers are contriving to add a prettily feminine note to simple daytime frocks. In the smartest dress collections you will see flounces conspicuously featured. The gown pictured in the above illustration is of soft beige wool with bright green embroidered diamond dots. It has a softly molded waistline, set-in belt and, of course, the flounce!

Style Show Reflects Lowly Fabrics' Use

A preview of spring and summer styles held in Chicago recently showed the 18,000 buyers from 17 states that they were going to carry home an array of chambrays, calicos and denims in women's and children's fashions. For these lowly fabrics have come into their own because of the influence of war.

Style and practicability are still the theme in these fashions, for the designers have kept their eye on both national defense needs, and the desires of millions of women purchasers in stores throughout the nation. Dresses, garden costumes, play clothes and work uniforms—all have been styled by the designers to reflect the signs of the times.

Until manufacturers run out of twills and such fabrics which are fashioned into foundation garments, girdles are here to stay, despite the rubber shortage.

Priorities on tin and other defense needs have caused tie fastenings instead of hooks and eyes, zippers, buttons and clasps to be substituted.

Everything in garments has taken on the practical atmosphere. Everything except the hostess coat which still remains silken and luxurious.

Now They Trim Your Hat To Match Your Blouse!

There is going to be a riot of frilly, frothy neckwear, and milliners are giving us something new in the way of hats that repeat the snowy lingerie accents. For instance, a wide brimmed straw or felt hat may be outlined with an organdy frill that repeats the frill used in the showy jabot. The jabot is one of the most important neckwear items featured this season.

Serve and Adorn

Besides serving industry, women will also adorn it. Trousered uniforms, made from denim and chambray, without trim or buttons, and with tight cuffs as accident preventives were noticed in a recent spring and summer style show.

Swore in 9 Presidents

Roger Brooke Taney, chief justice of the United States Supreme court from 1836 to 1864, administered the oath of office to more Presidents than any other man, says Collier's. He swore in Martin Van Buren, William Henry Harrison, John Tyler, James K. Polk, Zachary Taylor, Millard Fillmore, Franklin Pierce, James Buchanan and Abraham Lincoln.

We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS

• In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.

• It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world: the feeling of being adequately prepared.

• When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. Thus advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an aid toward making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

Difference in Days

How much longer and shorter, respectively, are the longest and shortest days of the year than the days next to them, is asked.

According to the U. S. Naval observatory, the difference in the length of day varies less than a minute from day to day in the weeks December 17-24, and June 17-24, in which the shortest and the longest day of the year occurs. Therefore, the difference in the length of day is less than a minute between, for example, December 21 and December 22.

CONTESTANTS SHOULD WORK

The field meet contestants should all get busy and prepare for the tests which are to be given in about two weeks. Even though we didn't do so well in last year's field meet, that shouldn't discourage the entrants. Show the high school that we have as much "get-up and go" about us as we ever have had. Everyone who is taking part in these activities should realize that a great deal of responsibility rests upon his shoulders (as well as his brain) and give the field meet all that he has. The various entrants in this meet will be announced later in the Bulldog.

The National Honor Society will soon begin to sell defense stamps at the High School building and also at the Grammar School to pupils. In order that the students may have a greater part in the defense program, this plan is going to be carried out. Our student body has already bought a sum of $8395.95 worth of bonds and stamps and we hope to raise this total still higher. The spirit of the school has already been shown by the enthusiasm which they have shown in all the measures which have been taken to prepare our nation for defense.

BULLDOG TYPIST MARRIES

We certainly do miss Mildred Gammons, nee Mildred Moss, who did a fine job of typing the BULLDOG. Mildred, we wish you the best of luck and we know that William certainly is lucky for having married you.

SENIORS RECEIVING COLLEGE BIDS

All of the seniors have been getting invitations and announcements here lately. Don't get excited these colleges are just trying to entice you into coming to their schools. It happens every year and it's only one of their means for enlarging their enrollments. In this way all of them have a chance to show their merits and it behooves the seniors to think twice before making a decision.

SNOW DELIGHTS SOME PUPILS

The snow we had last Monday was certainly a great disapointment. Why before we had sloshed our way to school that morning nearly all of the snow had melted. However, its effects are to be seen by the number of bad colds that have apeared among us. Some of the boys were ambitious and tried to start a snowball fight but this was short-lived because of a lack of ammunition.

SCOUTS ON THE JOB

The Scouts have been doing a successful job of collecting waste paper in Grenada for the last couple of months. In fact they have been working at this job so well that they have collected over five tnos of magazines, papers, and miscellaneous paper. This collection of scrap paepr as a nation-wide instrument for relieving the strain on defense priorities is certainly gaining momentum in the nation. Scouts in particular have been very cooperative. We wish to thank our own Scout organization for the work they have done and hope that they will continue to work in this cause.

STAMPS BEING COLLECTED

In the hall in front of the auditorium is a box in which all students are requested to put their postmarked stamps which have been taken off letters and packages which they receive. These stamps are used for the relief of the poor in England. The dyes used in the manufacture of stamps in the United States is of the highest quality and when the stamps are treated cchemically this dye is taken out and sold. This is only a small duty on the part of Grenad High Schol students and we should all work together in order to give aid to the suffering of the War Orphans.

REPORT CARDS

After getting report cards, surely everyone should get to work. This was the first report we have had since examinations and these next two six-week periods are going to determine whether or not some of us are going to be promoted. While America is at war is certainly no time to be failing in school work or doing too little studying. Be on your toes and keep pace with the fast tempo that America is now setting.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

Finals were held here Saturday in the GHS gym to determine the basketball "champs" of this district. The two girl teams that were undefeated in the tournament and eligible for finals were Coldwater and Derma girls. The boys in the finals were Cascilla and Spring Hill Cagers. At the close of the tournament the score board showed that Coldwater lassies and Cascilla lads were victorius and had won the district championship for 1941-42.

STYLE HIT PARADE

New Suit! New Suit! Confidenially girls and boys, if you don't have a new suit you're a social "peanut." These new suits vary very much in color, pattern, and mostly size. Ruth Lee Morrow has a bright yellow plaid suit to bring out her sunny hair, while Jackie Lane has a 3-piece "cutter" to bring out blueness in her soul for a certain army man.

We can'tafford to forget to mentioa the "divine" dresses the girls wore in the Junior play. Lil's white net dress trimmed in black was just plain made and handed down for her and so were Mary Lib's, Margarite's, Lucy's, Winnifred's, and Mary Nell's dresses made and handed down to make GHS proud of having such pretty juniors.

The senior football players' jackets are strictly good-looking as well as warm for this bit of cold weather we've been having since December. They are maroon with black leather sleeves with a "G" on the front of the jacket. Lambert, Bet, Robert Trussell, and Jack Ward can be seen most anywhere with them on.

(Republished from 1941 Bulldogs by request)

JUNIORS PRESENT PROGRAM

Tuesday night at eight o'clock the Juniors presented their annual program. The curtain rose on a three act play, "Seeing's Believing," after which came a program by the recently named "Stardusters," and finally a very discreet faculty burlesque. The orchestra program was interspersed with comments, announcements, explanations, and expostulations by Larry Noble, President of the Juniors, Bennie Moore got off a fine delcome speech. The curtain was ably pulled by Paul Hill. The faculty burlesque proved a "howling" success. "Turnip" Turnipseed "took off" Coach with his "wad of wax". Someone said that backstage Betty Ann Gresham told him to get quiet and think her to be miss Turner, he promptly obeyed. Mary Nell Rayburn executed the actions of Miss Owen to a "T", and Lynn Rose was a perfect Norsworthy.

After the program the Juniors were given a reception by the Junior Mothers. Refreshments and music were enjoyed. Miss Owen, the sponsor, was right there "keeping pace" with the crowd.

DEFENSE STAMPS ON SALE AT SCHOOL

The local chapter of the National Honor Society is promoting the sale of defense stamps at school. Stamps will be on sale Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. On other days they may be obtained on request. Honor Society members, Louise Avent, Leon Provine, Hazel Turner, Annne Odom, Dorothy Talbert, Beulah Abel, James Thomas, Mary Lou Cullen, Benny Moore, Lucy Moss, Winnifred Saunders, urge all pupils to BUY A SHARE IN AMERICA!

HONOR SOCIETY TO BUY DEFENSE BOND

The local chapter of the National Honor Society is completing plans for the purchase of a United States Defense Bond. This is a god illustration of the club's objectives of good citizenship, character, and service.

Louise Avent is president and Bennie Moore, vice-president of this organization.

Congratulations for this good example.

Americans EVERYWHERE CHOOSE TRI-STATE for CONVENIENCE and ECONOMY

TODAY, each and every American is exerting his "all-out" effort to do his part toward winning a victory for America and for the democratic, free way of living. Working at ordnance plants, aircraft factories, etc., necessarily located at remote points has placed a terrific burden on all transportation facilities. Tri-State is serving 18 such defense plants and camps throughout the nine states which it serves. Yet Tri-State has continued to maintain its regular and convenient schedules as in the past. Big, deluxe buses are waiting to take you on your way . . . with convenient connections for all points in America.
